SAYS REDS ARE BUSY IN KY. MOUNTAINS

Dr. Day, Speaking For Berea College At Louisville, Says They Are Growing Menace

The Louisville Times had this story Monday:

The work of propaganda carried on by the Reds in the mountain districts of Kentucky is one of the greatest and most serious menaces of the state, Dr. Jonathan C. Day, New York City, told members of the Electric Club of Louisville at today's noon luncheon meeting at the Hotel Henry Watterson. Doctor Day is a native Kentuckian, coming from Harlan county, and belonging to one of the typical mountain families—14 boys and 2 girls. He is head of the Labor Temple, New York City. Dr. Day is in Louisville speaking in the interest of Berea College.

Doctor Day described how the Reds come to the mountains and plant the seed of anarchy, bolshevism and distrust in the heart of the native whites and blacks and foreigners. He cautioned against ignoring such a force. "There is no more fertile field for the Reds than the mountains," he declared.

He told what Berea College means to the mountain people and what it has already done for them. He classed it as "organized intelligence" and "constructive education" which will assist in shaping the future of the mountaineers.

To the speaker the teaching of the A B C's is the need of the mountain people and he said that the boy and girl may start with the alphabet at Berea and end with the A.B. degree.

Dr. Day explained how much greater were the advantages of the immigrant in New York City than those of the Kentucky mountain child, where 1,000,000, he estimated, are denied the advantages of schooling and modern hygiene is practically unknown.

"My mother had eight sons, my step-mother six sons and two daughters without the aid of doctor or nurse," Doctor Day declared. He also told that his parents could neither read nor write and that they sold 600 acres of land near the Big Black Mountain for $600 which today would bring about $3,000,000, because they had no training which would enable them to estimate its value.

The Berea College Quartette sang several numbers. Its members are Bradley Kincaid, Brack Bowman, Charles Morgan and Seth White. M. E. Vaughn, secretary of Berea College, and J. M. Kingsbury, Doctor Day's assistant, also were guests of the club.

GENOA CONFERENCE STILL IN HUBBUB

(By Associated Press)
Genoa, Apr. 18.—The consternation caused by the German-Russian coup in signing a treaty at Rapallo supplanting the Brest-Litovsk pact, showed no signs of abating as the economic conference delegates continued their deliberations today. Some men in allied circles read into the treaty, especially the manner in which it was signed, a future alliance between Germany and Russia. Some prophets today predicted the conference is headed for disaster.

An Ultimatum from Allies

PROF. LEWIS HONORED BY SUPT. COLVIN

Eastern Faculty Member Named To Have Charge of Summer School Work

The many friends he has made since coming to Richmond to the faculty of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School were pleased to learn of the honor that has been conferred upon Prof. Charles D. Lewis by State Superintendent George Colvin. A dispatch from Frankfort said:

Three appointments to the increased staff of the state superintendent instruction, made possible by an added appropriation by the last session of the General Assembly, were made public here by Superintendent Colvin. C. D. Lewis, of Richmond, will have charge of the department of teacher training which will be created, and W. L. Threlkeld, of Lexington, and Warren Peyton, of Ohio county, will be school inspectors. They will take charge July 1.

In making public the appointments, the state superintendent explained something of his plan. The General Assembly when it passed the budget bills, passed an appropriation increasing the funds for the department's executive expense from $11,000 a year to $45,000 a year. This made possible carrying out a number of laws which could not be carried out before because of lack of funds.

Professor Lewis, who is now connected with Eastern State Normal, and formerly was with Berea College, will have charge of carrying out the work of the newly created summer teacher training schools provided for by an appropriation of $50,000 year.

The superintendent stated he would have two high school supervisors and four rural school supervisors after July 1, instead of the present three men who look after this work. The department of school buildings and plans also will be organized. This latter department has been provided for by a law which requires that the state superintendent approve plans for all school buildings, but because of lack of funds to employ competent help the approvals have been largely perfunctory.

A department of certification, which will have charge of the certification of teachers, also will be organized.

LEXINGTON TEAM MAY PLAY HERE

The Lexington Studebaker team of the Blue Grass League went to Irvine with a patched up team Sunday and were defeated. On their way over Manager Jesse Morton said he would like to get a game with Eastern Normal here this week. He said he could bring his club here for $40 expense money. Local fans say they believe that enough money could be taken in at the gates to pay the expenses. Then it was suggested that Sam Reid be secured from Hustonville to pitch the game against the Studebakers. Morton is anxious to "look him over" with a view to signing him in the Blue Grass league. He has been told that Reid is about ready for fast company and has the making of a great pitcher in him with the proper handling. The fans would undoubtedly turn out in large numbers to see Reid pitch against the Lexington team.

SENATE TO PASS BONUS THIS SEASON

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 18.—Senate republicans in a party conference today decided to pass the soldiers' bonus bill at this session. The vote was 36 to 9. On a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, the conference resolution said it is the sense of this conference that the Senate should at this session pass the soldiers' bonus bill and that the republican members of the Finance Committee be requested to report such a bill with in a reasonable time. The conference also agreed the Senate should consider the administration tariff bill on Thursday "without further delay."

The form of the bonus bill is left with the finance committee republicans, a majority of whom are reported to favor the House bill with the possible elimination of the amendment of the land settlement option.

Baker headed a moonshine raid into Happy Top country last Saturday and destroyed five stills and a quantity of beer and whisky. Charges were preferred against seven men and one woman and warrants issued for them. While the officers were away on this raid reports were scattered throughout the county that a couple of the raiding party had been killed in a clash with the moonshiners. Quite a bit of anxiety was felt here for the men until true reports were received that they were safe.

WALTER LAKES HELD TO GRAND JURY

Mat Lakes' Case Disposed of By Judge Goodloe, But is Still Before Appellate Court

On a charge of having in his possession a moonshine still and a bag of malt corn, Walter Lakes of the Bearwallow section of the county, was held to the grand jury at the May term of court by Judge John D. Goodloe in county court here Tuesday morning. Lakes furnished bond in the sum of $1,000 with his brother, Alvin Lakes, as surety.

Walter Lakes is a brother of Mat Lakes, whose case was carried to the Court of Appeals for construction of the new state prohibition law by his attorney, R. C. Oldham, some weeks ago. That case is still before the appellate court. However, it developed that Lakes didn't want to be kept in suspense so he had Attorney George P. Ross, of his counsel, appear before Judge Goodloe and waive his rights in the matter. Lakes then confessed to the charge and was given the minimum penalty of $100 fine and 30 days in jail by the Judge under the state law's provisions. As it stands, the suit to determine the constitutionality of the new law is still before the state's highest legal tribunal.

Judge Goodloe at first hesitated to try Mat Lakes in view of the writ of prohibition from the Court of Appeals. However, upon Lakes' attorney and County Attorney Joe P. Chenaunt signing the waiver of the question, and Lakes entering plea of guilty, he went ahead with the proceedings at Lakes' request.

Collins Long, on whose place a still was found by Sheriff Deatherage Monday, furnished bond in $1,000 for his appearance before the May term of court with former Sheriff P. S. Whitlock, his brother-in-law, as surety.

Talking With the Dead

(New York World)
Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's visit will awaken an unusual interest because of its unusual object. If the distinguished author came to lecture on literature he would be assured of a warm welcome. Coming as he does to preach spiritualism and to prove both the existence of life after death and the possibility of communicating with the spirit world, his mission transcends that of most lecturers from abroad.

He has talked, he says, with more than twenty members of his family who have passed on. He knows there is no hell. He is just as positive in his conviction that the departed are happier in their spirit life than they were here. Surely this is a message calculated to deal to the most indurate materialist.

It is a message that a public sceptical than it was about the cruder spiritualistic phenomena of a former time will receive with open mind. The world generally is in a more receptive mood as regards the possible truth of the doctrine of spiritualism than was the case before his war. All Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's audiences will ask in proof; they will not doubt be content with proof of one alone of his claims—that he holds communication with his dead soldier-son.

The credulous will believe as a matter of course; the doubters will demand a positive sign and token, and it remains to be seen how fully the lecturer can supply that need. It is a disadvantage as respects convincing the sceptical that the lecturer's talks with his dead have been conducted only through a medium, "a delicate materialization being necessary," as he says, "as a means of communication." That is the veil behind which imposture has hid in the past and without discrediting it in the present instance, it must be torn away before popular doubts are dispelled. Once a spiritualist of authority and repute proves that he is in direct communication with the dead, there will be no lack of believers.

HERE'S MARCH HONOR ROLL OF BOVINES

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., April 17—Twenty-six Kentucky dairy cows including 18 Jerseys and eight Holsteins, owned by 13 different dairymen in ten counties of the state gained a place on the March Honor Roll by producing more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days that they were tested under the direction of the College of Agriculture department, J. J. Hooper, head of the department, announced today. A total of 141 cows comprising 34 different herds were tested for milk and butterfat production during the month, according to the announcement.

Jefferson county placed the largest number of cows on the list of any of the counties. Robt. Wedekind, of Louisville, owning four of the high producers and H. C. Tway, also of Louisville, having two of the six from that county. Shelby county was second among the counties in the number of animals on the list, this county having placed four. Gallatin, Campbell, Fayette and Boone each placed three high producers on the roll while Kenton, Mason, Henry and Todd counties claimed one each.

Maid Natsy DeKol Hartog 2nd, owned by George Warner, Newport, was the highest producing cow for the month, the four-year-old Holstein having produced 143 pounds of milk and 4.31 pounds of fat during the two days she was tested. Financial Maiden Fern, owned by Mrs. Wedekind, was second and among all the high producers and first among the Jerseys on the list. She produced 96 pounds of milk and 4.06 pounds of fat during the two days of the test. FORD TRACTOR SALES INCREASE

April Expected To Be A Record-breaking Month

Although the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, has been increasing the output of Fordsons daily since the first of the year, retail sales have maintained even a greater advance.

April requirements necessitate the building of four hundred Fordsons a day, and production is being further increased as rapidly as possible. This is the Ford Company's largest output since 1919, and it is expected that production will have broken all previous records before the end of the month.

The increased buying of Fordsons indicates that the farmer's position is better and also is the farmer's endorsement of the Fordson price-cut which created considerable comment throughout the country.

Besides the Fordsons being sold for farm use, many are being sold in the cities as power units for hauling, excavating, grading and other kinds of industrial work.

POULTRY DAY AT EXPERIMENT STATION

Lexington, Ky., April 13—Madison county farmers and their wives who are interested in improving their poultry flocks will be among those who will have a special invitation to attend the first "Poultry Day" to be held on the College of Agriculture farm here April 26, it has been announced. While the program for the event has been designed for farmers in all parts of the state, the college and the county agent, R. F. Spence will make a special effort to have a large delegation from Madison attend. The county is close enough to the college farm to give farmers living in it a good opportunity to obtain new pointers on the care and management of their flocks, it is believed.

Following a description of the of the college poultry work, farm by J. H. Martin, in charge those who come here for the day will be shown the breeding pens where the mating of six different breeds will be explained, the brooders where 1500 chicks of different ages are being reared under coal and oil burning brooders and the large laying house of the farm with 300 hens. The method of managing the laying flock together with the electric light experiment to increase egg production will be explained at this point.

In experiments now under way, the college poultrymen will explain those comparing sour skimmilk, semisolid buttermilk and meat scrap in the laying ration, those showing the value of limestone in the laying ration, those showing the inheritance of egg shell color and skin color together with those designed to show the best type of poultry houses for various conditions. The use of various types of incubators including an 1800-egg one, together with several small ones, also will be explained. Addresses and discussions on a variety of poultry problems by Dean Cooper of the College, J. R. Smith, extension poultryman, and Mr. Martin will help round out the day's activities.

E. A. Geary and Warren Fisher, of Nicholasville, will open a bathing beach at Camp Nelson.

John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, who has been dangerously ill with throat trouble, must undergo another operation.

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest scientists says that more than 90% of all human ills can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this? Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary. Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant dosing will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the bowels, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. And NR does this without a sign of griping, pain or unpleasantness. It works gently, but promptly and thoroughly. In a few days you notice the real result. You begin to feel that you are living again, with new strength, new energy, vim and pep and ginger. You soon find your bowels acting regularly without help. Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

FERTILIZER BENEFITS PROVEN OVER STATE

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Apr. 17.—Kentucky is a pioneer state in the study of soils and their needs for greater crop production, according to a history of the work written by S. C. Jones, of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, for the rural Kentuckian, an agricultural publication, published by students in the College of Agriculture here.

As early as 1854, Dr. Robert Peter, an early chemist for the Kentucky Geological Survey, began a chemical study of the soils of the state, the Kentuckian states. He continued his work without interruption, except for a short period during the Civil War, until the establishment of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station in 1885, the story continues.

The laying out of soil experiment fields near Mayfield, Lone Oak, Greenville, Russellville and Berea in 1913 and 1914 marked the first big attempt on the part of Experiment Station soil specialists to work out some of the problems which were hindering crop production in various sections of the state, the Kentuckian continues. Following this, a field was established near Farristown in 1916 and another near Campbellsville in 1919. The Lincoln Ridge Field, in Shelby county, the only one within the blue grass region, was laid out in 1914.

Since they represent distinct soil formations of the state, the fields have been the means of definitely answering a number of soil fertility questions for practically all farmers in the state, the Kentuckian points out.

On the Mayfield field, which, together with the Lone Oak field, represents the predominating upland soil of the Purchase region, the average crop increases made by limestone on eight corn crops has been 5.1 bushels, for six soybean hay crops 709 pounds, for seven wheat crops 2.6 bushels and for six clover crops 1,707 pounds an acre.

On the same field, limestone and acid phosphate used together have given an average increase of 12.1 bushels of corn, 1,114 pounds of soybean hay, 7.2 bushels of wheat and 2,379 pounds of clover hay an acre.

Striking results have been obtained on the Greenville and Farristown fields which represent the soils of the Western and Eastern coal fields respectively, according to the Kentuckian. Acid and rock phosphate when used alone on the Greenville field have more than doubled the yield of soybean hay, wheat and clover, while the yield of corn has been increased more than one-fourth. On the Farristown field the same two phosphates each have returned practically $3 for every dollar invested. The use of limestone and acid phosphate on both these fields has given greater increases in crop yields than limestone and rock phosphate, this combination on the Greenville field having returned more than $8 for each dollar invested in the fertilizer.

On the Russellville experiment field, which represents thousands of square miles of soils in Southern and Western Kentucky that have been derived from the St. Louis limestone, rock phosphate has made the best showing of any of the fertilizers due to its effectiveness in increasing the clover yields.

The Berea experiment field, representing thousands of acres of low, flat, poorly drained "crawfishy" land adjacent to the knobs and extending in a crescent from Vanceburg on the Ohio river around the border of the bluegrass region back to the Ohio river at Louisville, has demonstrated that limestone and acid phosphate or limestone and rock phosphate are the best fertilizer combinations for that section of the state. The corn, soybean and wheat crops have been more than doubled, while the yield of clover hay has been increased about six times.

Rock phosphate alone has given the best returns on the Campbellsville field which represents about 4,500 square miles of territory bordering the outer rim of the bluegrass region and whose soils have been derived from the free stone and limestone of the Waverly formation. Rock phosphate alone on this field has yielded three bushels more of corn to the acre, 1.1 bushels more of wheat and 1760 pounds more of clover hay an acre than has the combination of limestone and rock phosphate.

Laurel County Prisoners Refuse To Work Roads

London, Ky., April 15—About 20 prisoners in the Laurel county jail went on strike this morning when they were ordered to work on the public roads, by County Judge P. R. Pennington. The reason given for their strike was that the guards were armed with shot guns and had strict orders as to guarding prisoners on the road after seven escaped several days ago.

Judge Pennington this afternoon notified the strikers that they would be held in jail without credit for the time served until they were ready to go to work. Seven went to work this afternoon, but the others declared they will not go with the armed guards.

WIDE INTEREST IN NEW BURLEY PLAN

Lexington, Ky., Apr. 18—Tobacco growers from all over the United States are interested in the success of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, according to inquiries received from every tobacco growing state in the union and to the number of personal investigations being made by tobacco men from the various states.

L. C. Foster, of Madison, Wis., Deputy Commissioner of the Bureau of Markets, is in Lexington to study the plan of the burley association. Mr. Foster is one of the leaders in a movement in Wisconsin to organize the tobacco growers along the lines of the Kentucky association and has come here, as he expresses it, "to get some 'timber' for the membership campaign" which he plans to start within a few weeks.

Mr. Foster said Wisconsin grows annually about 60,000,000 pounds of cigar type tobacco. He said the 1920 crop sold at an average of about 40 cents per pound. The 1921 crop sold last winter for less than 7 cents per pound. As a consequence, he said the Wisconsin growers are facing conditions similar to that existing in Kentucky a year ago, and the growers realize they must organize for protection.

Mr. Foster, who has been in conference with officials of the association, said he was greatly impressed by the wonderful progress the organization has made in so short a time and he assured these men that, within a few months, Wisconsin would join hands with Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Virginia, the Carolinas and other states that have adopted the cooperative plan of marketing tobacco.

Hugh West, of Hopkinsville, also visited the association's offices. Mr. West, who is from the dark tobacco district, and one of the prime movers in the organization work there, reports that the prospects for a cooperative in Western Kentucky and Tennessee are very encouraging.

Plans are being formulated for beginning within a few weeks another intensive campaign for members. Every county already organized will be canvassed, but special effort will be made in the outlying districts.

James C. Stone, president and general manager of the Burley Association, expressed himself as being confident that enthusiastic response will be given to an appeal soon to be made to sign up the small percentage of burley growers still outside.

Mr. Stone predicts that in the near future the Burley Association will have control of practically the entire burley tobacco production.

The field service division reports the receipt during the last week of 115 contracts, representing about 300,000 pounds. Of these 30 were received from Bracken county, 13 from Rockcastle and 10 from Boone, and 19 from Indiana counties.

The paper says that politically the negroes fared better and were more considered under the Wilson administration than its successor, from which they had the right to expect most.

LADY ASTOR TO MAKE HER FIRST VISIT HERE

(By Associated Press)

Baltimore, Apr. 18—Lady Astor, formerly Miss Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia, is about to make her first visit "back home" since she was elected the first woman member of the British parliament. She also will deliver her first address outside of England since she spoke at the International Woman Suffrage Convention at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1920. Soon after her arrival in America she will come here to attend the Convention of the National League of Women Voters and the Pan-American Conference of Women, April 20-22. Lady Astor will be the guest in Washington of Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, of Millford, Pa., a girlhood friend, and finance chairman of the National League of Women Voters. Miss Mary Garrett Ray, chairman of the New York City League, appointed a reception committee to receive Lady Astor on her arrival.

Lady Astor expects to visit her home and relatives while in this country. She recently joined her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, of New York City, in launching a movement to aid the education of Southern women through scholarships. Her subscription for this purpose was accompanied by a note saying that "women are needing education now as never before."

Story Of A Collie Dog

Miss Ada May, of Jettie, Franklin county, contributed to the March number of the American Sheep Breeder and Wool Grower a very delightful story of Flack, the highly bred and extraordinarily fine and intelligent imported collie dog that herds the flock of Hampshire sheep at Hartland Farm. Soon after Flack arrived in America, Senator Camden bought him for at fancy price at the International Livestock Exhibition and presented him to E. W. Cook, well known Scotch shepherd in charge of the Camden sheep. A paragraph in Miss Cromwell's article says: "Ted Cook, the only superior whom Flack acknowledges, for seven years before he came to America, raised and showed sheep for King Edward at Windsor Castle. On the wall of the living room at the Cook bungalow, alongside of Flack's picture, hangs Mr. Cook's recommendation from His Highness."

Washington Paper Tells of Honor To Gilbert

The Washington Times had the following concerning the honor recently conferred on Representative Ralph Gilbert in Congress: Congressman Ralph Gilbert, of Kentucky, is the new ranking democrat on the House District Committee. He succeeds Congressman James P. Woods, of Virginia, resigned. Despite the fact that both Congressmen Christopher D. Sullivan, of New York, and Tom Planton, of Texas, have had longer terms of service on the District Committee, democratic leaders plan to recognize Mr. Gilbert as the ranking member. During his service on the Committee Congressman Gilbert has served on practically all of the important sub-committees. His long experience as judge, members of the committee declared, has made him an invaluable member. Congressman Gilbert is forty years old and lives in Congress Hall Hotel.

"Found Seven Rats Dead in Bin Next Morning"

Robert Woodruff says: "My premises were infested with rats. I tried RAT-SNAP on friend's recommendation. Next morning found seven dead rats in bin, two near feed box, three in stall. Found large number since. No smell from dead rats—RAT-SNAP dries them up. Best thing I have ever used." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Douglas & Simmons and Stockton and Son.

DIXIE AUTO COMPANY

Cave Man Stuff

Back near the beginning of things, our prehistoric forebears would have perished from the earth if they had not understood the science of reading advertising.

The cavemen didn't know much about underwear, hair tonic or phonographs, but they did have to eat. The one who could follow the tracks of the game he hunted, or read the meaning of a twisted leaf or broken twig, was best off in life.

Then as now, the most consistent reader of advertising was best dressed, best fed and most contented.

There has been something of an evolution in advertising in the last few thousand years, but the principle is just the same.

The consistent reader of the advertisements is invariably best informed on what to eat and where to get it; what to wear and how much to pay for it; what to do and how to do it. He's up on the most important things in life. Consequently he gets most from life.

Throughout the ages, advertising has done much to make life livable and pleasant. We owe it much.

Let's make the most of it.

WALLY REID TO DRIVE
CAR 13 IN BIG RACE

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 15.—Wallace Reid, moving picture actor, who recently filed his entry in the 500-mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30th, will drive car No. 13, it was said here today.

Twelve drivers entered the race ahead of Reid and as has been done for several years, T. E. Myers, manager of the speedway, insisted that he be given the number and the speedway officials consented. Mr. Myers said a car bearing No. 13 had not started in the contest since 1913.

Reid is due to arrive in Indianapolis May 4 to begin training for the race. He already has been granted a driver's license by the American Automobile Association under whose rules the Indianapolis race is conducted. The only other requisite for competing in the local race is ability to drive a racing car to the satisfaction of the speedway officials.

The executive of a motion picture concern for which Reid has been acting, has declared, it is said, that he will not permit Reid the actor to compete in the race if it is "humanly possible to stop him." Reid, however, is said to have asserted he intends to go through with his plans.

Hiram Albert Richardson, famous typewriter salesman and expert from Danville and Lexington, was here looking 'em over Tuesday. He sells the Remington—nuff sed.

Manager Earl Noyes of the U. S. Exposition Shows, went to Lexington Tuesday to get some new banners and other equipment for his big carnival. He's just bought a new Ford truck to use for advertising purposes. The merry-go-round got out of kilter Monday night but is working again O. K.

YOUNG ARTISTS DRAW
JACKIE COOGAN FINE

The Jackie Coogan Drawing Contest conducted by Miss Ward this week, brought out the talent among the young folks of this city. Hundreds of children sent in drawings and each of them surpassed those of Daddy Long Legs which was conducted some time ago. The only regret of the whole affair was that the management was unable to reward the splendid efforts of scores of other children whose drawing showed decided talent. The drawings were so numerous that it was impossible to display them all in the lobby at the theatre, but it is the intention of the management to pick out the best ones and send them to Jackie that he may see what the children of Richmond have been doing for him. The prizes were awarded as follows: 1st prize—Lucille Howe; 2nd—Elizabeth Hall; 3rd—Laura Blanton; 4th—J. A. Mershon; 5th—Margaret Howe; 6th—Katherine Enright; 7th—Nellie Cornelson; 8th—Marge Cruse; 9th—Eva Sanderson; 10th—Jane Goodloe; 11th—Francis Langford; 12th—Paul Parke; 13th—Elizabeth Cornelson.

Owing to the unusually large crowds flocking to see this popular little actor, Miss Ward has made arrangements with the exchange to repeat the picture on Wednesday.

How Diphtheria Is Contracted

One child in 100 contracts diphtheria. My child caught a severe cold when the family doctor told the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. If your child has a cold when diphtheria is prevalent, you should take him out of school and keep him off the street until fully recovered, as there is a hundred times more danger of his taking diphtheria when he has a cold. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted.

Dr. Lorenzo, the great bloodless surgeon from Austria, has returned home after treating 6,000 cases in the United States.

TO SHIP OIL FROM LEE IN BARGES

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 18.—Contracts are drawn and will be signed in the very near future between the C. C. Stoll Oil Company of Louisville and the Frankfort Elevator and Construction Company for the transportation of crude oil from Lee county to the refinery of the Stoll Oil Company in this city in barges. It was stated today by B. V. Stoll, of the oil concern.

Two barges, of 5,000 barrels capacity each, will be put into river service by the Frankfort Company. The inauguration of the river freight service for moving the crude oil from the Eastern Kentucky fields to the refinery will mean a saving of $170 daily in freight to his company, Mr. Stoll said.

The barges will be of steel construction and will bring the river freight fleet of the Frankfort company to a total of four vessels, Mr. Stoll said.

Pushin's Store Honored

No sooner had Richmond organized her golf club than news was heralded around the fashion shops of the country and a few days ago a telegram was received by the popular merchant, Jack Pushin, from the Julius Sport Goods Co., of New York, appointing him as sales representative in Eastern Kentucky for their famous line of golf suits. This comes as quite an honor unsolicited on the part of Mr. Pushin. This is an English concern and is recognized as the largest sporting goods manufacturers. "Jack" is a wide awake man when it comes to business, and he intends to give the people of this section the very best in Milady's fashions.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—That friend will recognize friend and the souls of loved ones "who have crossed the death line," will greet the newcomer in the final judgment day was the opinion expressed in a sermon by Dr. David K. It is not the body which will count at that time or what a person weighed on earth but his personality, soul and spirit. These persons who have accepted the faith of Christ will have a future existence, but not a future life."

Royal Arcanum Convention

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., Apr. 18.—There were 723 members of the Royal Arcanum members of the forty-fourth Kentucky councils at the end of 1921, according to the report of Alex M. Woodruff, grand secretary, made to the biennial Grand Council of the order here today. There was a balance of $823.08 in the treasury at the end of 1921, he said. Thirty-seven members of the order died during the two years. Care in the selection of secretaries of the subordinate councils also is urged by the grand secretary.
